

Russia - China Oil Pipeline

Inspection teams from both Moody Russia and Moody China will work on the same project, as Moody International has been selected by Transneft, Russia and CNPC, China as third-party inspection contractors to supervise construction of an oil pipeline river crossing.

The Russia / China oil pipeline is being constructed by CNPC and Transneft in their respective countries, with the river crossing section being constructed jointly by both companies. The 1,150 meter dual-line section will cross the Heilongjiang River on the border between Russia and China, with completion expected in June 2010. This pipeline, which runs from Skovorodino, Russia to China's northeastern city of Daging, will link Russia's far east to China's northeast, is set to start operation by the end of 2010. It is anticipated that the pipeline will transport 15 million tones of crude oil annually during the years 2011 through 2030.
