

Moody Wins Global Certification and Training Contract with Jotun Paints

Moody Certification Norway has successfully won a global contract with Jotun Paint for certification of all their production sites worldwide.

Jotun, with its Head Office in Sandefjord Norway. (www.jotun.com), is a global leader in the fields of Decorative, Protective, Marine and Powder coatings. The company has embarked on a universal certification scheme of implementing ISO 14001 and OHSAS 18001 into their production plants.

In all approx 60 new certifications will be started and completed within the next 18-24 months as well as 60 transfers of existing schemes.

Jotun have had a mix of Certification bodies for various standards and has been looking to standardise this for consistency and ongoing improvement. The contract awarded to Moody was won against fierce international competition.

In addition to the certification, Moody will also provide top management awareness training as well as awareness, internal auditor and lead auditor training to staff around the world, again to provide Jotun with a consistent internal approach.

As part of their commitment to this project, (due to be completed between the end of 2010 and mid 2011), Jotun has appointed a group ISO project manager located in Sandefjord and established a core unit of 4 regional managers who will liaise with MIC Norway on a regular basis.

From the Moody side, this contract will be run out of our office in Sandefjord, Norway, with the assistance of MI UK for training and 4 appointed regional coordinators to be responsible for the day to day liaison with their Jotun counterpart. The certification world wide will be based on Norwegian Accreditation.

Please feel free to visit the Jotun home page, and look at some of the exiting projects being completed with Jotun products. The Eiffel Tower, the Queen Mary 2 Cruise ship, various oil & gas platforms/vessels, the Burj Al Arab Hotel (the Sail), various land based industrial applications and the worlds highest building, soon to be completed, the Burj Dubai Tower.

Moody welcomes this opportunity to work with Jotun to provide a value for money range of services that will utilise Moody's substantial worldwide network.
